PRICE TWO CENTS.

18TH YEAR-WHOLE NO. 5,399.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP. GOVERNMENT GOSSIP.

When we can buy for less we sell for less; for instance, the first of the season we sold 34 All-wool Red Flannel for 371/2c. Couldn't sell it for less, but a late purchase at lower figures enables us to offer it at 31c per yard. Grand value at this price. The above is also the case with 36-inch White Shaker Flannel. Prior to this purchase we sold it at 37 1/2 c, now 31c per yard. Ten hundred and twenty-nine yards of full 35-inch (called 4-4) unbleached canton flannel, heavy extra close, fine, soft nap, very strong. Best we have ever shown at the price, 121/2c per yard.

Another case of A. C. E. Bed-ticking, warranted feather-proof, best known brand made, only 121/2c. We sold it at 15c some time since.

Callers at the White House .- The President's callers to-day included the Sec. retary of the Interior, the Postmaster-Gen eral, Commissioner Colman, John Russell Young and Representative Carleton.

Too Impatient Clerks. - Chief Clerk Youmans objects to the Treasury clerks leaving their desks in time to make all their preparations and leave the building by 4 o'clock. He thinks the clerks should wait until the clock strikes four before stopping

Will Not Interfere.-Congressman Morrison contradicts the report that the Administration is interfering to prevent a revision of the rules of the House of Representatives with a view to avoiding the danger of dispute between the Democratic factions. Mr. Morrison says the Administration will not interfere, and has not requested Carlisle, Randall and himself to discountenance the plans for revision. The appliest of revision is one which he was subject of revision is one which, he says will have to settle itself after the House

Consulting About Silver.-Mr. S. Dana Horton, one of the most prominent fluanclers of the country, and one of the members of the Silver Commission, is in the city in consultation with Secretary Mandng and Treasurer Jordan on the subjecof the financial recommendations to made to Congress. Mr. Horton is under-stood to favor the passage of a bill susending the present silver coinage at some pending the present silver comage at some fixed date and the appointment of a com-mission, with authority to negotiate a treaty, providing some international ratio of value between gold and silver. Prominent finan-ciers of both parties visitthe Treasury daily Ribbon, in two shades of Ex-Secretaries McCulloch and Boutwell.

The Life-Saving Service.-The annua report of Mr. S. J. Kimball, general super-intendent of the Life-saving Service, shows that at the close of the last fiscal year the establishment embraced 203 stations, 157 being on the Atlantic, 38 on the lakes, 7 on Department, do not think we have not the goods. It was 256. There were on board these vessels 2,206 persons, of whom 2,196 were saved and only ten lost. The number of shipwrecked persons who received succor at the stations was 568, to whom 1,695 days' relief in the aggregate was afforded. The estimated value of the vessels involved in these disasters was $3,519,550, and that of their cargoes $1,084,965, making the total value of property imperiled $4,604,455. Of this amount $3,352,760 was saved and $1,-251,635 lost.

The New Civil-Service Commission,-Civil-Service Commissioner Edgerton was at the headquarters of the commission today for the first time since his return. The new commission will now virtually enter upon their work, the meetings heretofore held having been of a very routine charac beid having been of a very routine charac-ter, and the Sterling case the only subject of importance considered. Commissioner Edgerton says the commission is perfectly harmonious and a unit on all the principles involved. Civil-service reform he regards as a public necessity, and its administration should not, in his opinion, be unpopular. There is much good in the civil service act and rules, and he says the new commission-ers want to bring this out and rectify the defects and inconsistencies wherever they ers want to bring this out and rectify the defects and inconsistencies wherever they are found. Commissioner Edgerton denies the reports that the new commissioners have determined upon extensive changes of the rules. The subject of amending the rules has not, he says, been considered. The new commissioners do not yet know each others views nor the exact bearing and effect of the various rules. The policy in any revision of the rules will be to correct an error or defect when they come to it rather than to begin hunting for places where the present system can be attacked. Mr. Edgerton denies the report that the age restrictions, which operate against ex-Confederates by rendering them ineligible for cortain branches of the service, will be removed. He says the limitations as to age have not been considered specially, but that changes will only be made upon proof that they would be beneficial to the service. Mr. Ed. been considered specially, but that Changes will only be made upon proof that they would be beneficial to the service. Mr. Ed-gerton says that Commissioner Faton will prepare the annual report of the commis-sion as far as the routine operations of the year are concerned, and that it remains to be decided what will be saided in the way of general review, comment and remainbe decided what will be saided in the way of general review, continent and recommendations. Mr. Edgerton says he has no knowledge of Mr. Estan's desires of the President's intentions as to Mr. Estan's desires of the President's intentions as to Mr. Estan's desires of the President's intentions as to Mr. Estan's desires of the churre as a commissioner. Consul Schoenhof on the Tariff.facob Schoenhof, the newly appointed consul at Tunstall, England, left for New York to-day to sail for his post. Mr. Schoen-hof has been in consultation with Secretary Bayard and other members of the Adninistration and with Colonel Morrison and distribution and with Colonel Morrison and other leaders in Congress on tariff subjects. He had a long conference with Morrison yesterday, as to the latter's proposed tariff bill, and there was a thorough interchange of views. Mr. Schoenhof is expected to furnish statistics and other information from England, bearing upon the administration of the customs laws.

The Hostile Apaches .- Adjutant-General Drum has received the following dis-patch from General Crook: "Sanchez rought into Fort Apache last evening the head of one of the hostiles named Quelah. He also reports that the hostiles are killing all the White Mountain Indians they can find scattered over the reservation. It seems probable that up to this time they have killed eleven women, four children and five men and boys. The White Mountains threaten to retailate on the Chiricahuas remaining on the reservation, but tains threaten to retailate on the Chirica-huas remaining on the reservation, but these are close to Fort Apache and care-fully guarded. The Indians on the reser-vation are greatly aroused and several par-ties of scouts and troops are hunting the hostiles. All the Indian camps have been notified. There is reason to hope that more of the hostiles will be killed."

Attorney-General Garland has decided

Attorney-General Garland has decided Attorney-General Garland has deetded that Lieutenant James F. Simpson, Third Cavalry, having accepted the promotion to captain and then having been rejected by the Senate, ceased to be an officer of the army from March 4, 1885, and that First Lieutenant Edgar Z. Steever is entitled to promotion in his place, to rank as captain from November 26, 1884. Lieutenant George H. Morgan, Daniel H. Broughton and Franklin O. Johnson, Third Cavalry, have therefore been promoted to first lieutenants. Officials at the War Department hold the opinion to be contrary to law, and believe that Congress will ratify the wrong to Lieutenant Simpson at the next session, paying tenant Simpson at the next session, paying him in full and promoting him to his proper rank. No such case has ever occurred in the army.

THE DOG AND WHIP CRAZE

How Young Ladies Drive Their Big Pets Along the Avenue.

It has reached Washington and is rapidly developing. A case was known to exis here over two weeks ago, but was prosounced a sporadie one and not dangerous nounced a sporadic one and not dangerous. But new cases have occurred, and now scarcely a day passes but others are reported. Doubtless before two weeks have passed, if the weather proves as favorable to it as it has recently, it will have assumed an epidemic form.

Smallpox? Yellow fever? No! No! of course not. Who said anything about either smallpox or yellow fever? Why, its only the latest attempt of society to amuse itself that we are tailting about. Haven't you been on the Avenue lately between four and five in the afternoon? And layen't you noticed how you will first meet a great big overgrown dog that looks as though he was out advertising a border drama at the Dime Museum! And then how, a minute later, you! I meet a swell young lady with a boncle tailor-made suit, a must in one hand, and a sings-leg whip in the other? Well that's English y' know! Its a new amuse-ment imported by young ladies who spent the season abroad.

It's awfully nice you know, to carry a

the season alroad.

It's awfully nice you know, to carry a whip when you are accompanied by your mastiff or St. Bernard. The proper sort of a dog now, you know, is large, yery large—in fact, the larger the better. Your style is just in preportion to the size of your dog, so the poodle's nose is out of joint. The big dog that has been so long relegated to the back yard has been brought out, dusted off, a new Re-dollar collar buckled around his neck, and to-day be is the fashionable appendage for the afternoon promenade. You must by no means, however, take the big dog out without earrying your whip; the whip is to manage the big dog with. Of course it doesn't manage him, but the possession of a whip gives you the appearance, at any rate, of being mistress of the dog's movements. The big dog has a way of trotting majestically ahead, nosing into trotting majestically ahead, nosing into everything he runs across and paying very little attention to what's said to him. It is little attention to what's said to him. It is now that you must use the whip. Give the whip a sharp crack and at the same time stamp your foot upon the pavement. You will observe that instantly the big dog will dart across the street and try to swallow a poodle or pug that by mistake happens to be out. Again crack your whip and move on and the big dog will follow you—but not until he gets ready. The whip has little effect upon the big dog when he is busy in vestigating the surroundings of a tree-box or a gas-post. or a gas-post lit is to be hoped, says the World's correspondent, that one of the reforms of the President will be the abolishing of the line of ladies called in to assist him upon his regular receptions and the lady of the White House Saturday afternoons. Instead of having these ladies placed at their case about the Blue Parlor where they could have an opportunity of talking with their friends and really assisting, it has been the custom to simply stand them up in a row like to many lay figures just to the right of the President. SULLIVAN'S LATEST MATCH.

The Veteran Pugitist Weds a Popular Variety Actress in This City. The 5:40 train from the East yesterday orning brought to this city the notoriou ougilist, John Lawrence Sullivan, but his rrand this time was for the purpose of conduding terms of a ring match. The other ontracting party was Miss Annie Livingston of the Davene Combination, which was at the Theatre Comique during the

was at the Theatre Comique during the past week. She is a handsome, young serio-comic singer and a great favorite with the patrons of variety entertainments in this city. Mr. Sullivan was accompanied by Senator Tom Grady and Harry Minor of New York, and the trio were met by several people in the secret, for the intention was to keep the matter private.

An event of auch interest, however, is bound to become known. It is learned that after a day of pleasure the parties were united in holy wedlock late in the afternoon. Miss Ella Martyne of the Davone Company acting as bridesmaid, and Mr. James McKeon of the same company being best man, and Senator Grady and Harry Minor spectators. The bride was even more than usually attractive in a robe of white satin and wore the conventional orange blossoms. The bridesmaid wore a similar tollet. Mr. Sullivan, with his usual open heart, presented the bridesmaid with a diamond ring and the best man with a scatf pin in the form of boxing-gloves set in diamonds. It is claimed, too, that in the cuveloge which the happy groom pressed upon the reverened gentloman who officiated, was a $100 bill. After partaking of a supper, Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan left on an evening train, evening train,

Fire at Herndon, Va-

A Herndon, Va., correspondent says: The entire drug store and dwelling-house The entire drug store and dwelling-house of Spofford & Church was consumed by fire on Wednesday night. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue and was first discovered about 7:30 p.m., near the Oil River. It spread rapidly to the main building. Nearly all the furniture in the front part of the building, together with a large portion of the goods in the store, were seorched. The building adjoining, owned by Mrs. Carlin of Alexandria and store, were scorched. The building adjoining, owned by Mrs. Carlin of Alexandria and occupied by Mr. Thompson, was saved by great effort, but in a very damaged condition. Spofford & Church inimellately removed the remnant of their stock to another building, and expect to eract a much larger and finer building on the old site at

WHAT GOV. GRAY SAYS.

Departure of the Congressional Committees from Washington.

Indianapoles, Inc., Nov. 30,-The deciuneral is the subject of much unfavorable comment, although a few prominent Demorate assumed the authority to suggest the he was not expected to be present. The great mass of them can scarcely conceal their disappointment and regret that Cleve-land should have falled to come as a mark of respect due the Vice-President. of respect due the Vice-President.

Governor Gray said this morning to a United Press reporter, "I think President Cleveland has been misinformed as to the wishes of the Indiana people in this matter, and has made a blumler which will not soon be forgiven, my idea is that public men ought to move about just as other men, and I feel that the course adopted by the President is scarcely in harmony with the theory of our institutions. I think the President should invectome."

The features were remarkably disculors, the features were remarkably disculoration just under the eyes. There was no look of pain or suffering, but rather of quiet relief. The first to pass through the estafulque, and look upon the countenance, were the various committees and organizations that participated in the parade. Among the first were Mr. Hendriks hephews, Toin and Harry Morgan, the latter being the person who was with him just before his death and to whom he last-spoke. The milita were stationed in lines extending the entire length of the corridor and arrangements were made for the crowd to enter at the last end of the building, and, after viewing the remains, pass at thremch the

At 1 o'clock the doors were opened, and the apparently endless procession began, while from a stand above, concealed by plants and evergreens, came the doleful strains of a funeral march. The arrangements had been made so perfectly that there was neither confusion nor delay, and the crowl passed quietly and orderly through the building. More than 25,000 persons passed through the building during the afternoon.

The remains will be returned to the Hendricks residence at 5 o'clock this afternoon, and the interment will take place to-morrow.

THE PRESIDENT'S DECISION. He Will Not Attend the Funeral of

Vice-President Hendricks. The President has decided not to attend he funeral of the late Vice-President. In eaching this conclusion he has been profoundly impressed by the arguments presented by the devoted friends of the late Vice-President living in his State and city, that the real and solemn duties of his office are at the National Capital: and that in the present peculiar and delicate situation he ought not to take even the remote chance of secident incident to travel to gratify a sentiment so general and so characteristic as that involved in this subject. He further says: "I am now certain that neither my desire, nor the sentiment referred to, nor the difficulty that attends in this case a change of design, nor any stubbornides of heroism, will justify me in subjecting the country to any greater chance of disaster than attends my performance of strict duty here, and that I ought not to inflict upon my countrymen even the turest and attainty attending my departure, absence and return, in attendance upon the funeral ceremonies." Vice-President living in his State and city,

The following telegram was received by the President on Saturday in reponse to an inquiry if Mrs. Hendricks considered the President's presence necessary:
